Tag and assign each task with a priority and action Keep track of all your tasks in a clean and tidy list Get todos in your shell without having to switch to your task manager Automatic synchronization with the Ultralist Cracked Accounts.io website Built on the latest technology and up to date The task management app offers a free and a premium version that comes with a lot of additional features. For example, the premium version provides the support for displaying due dates on the task list, setting a warning, scheduling new tasks and the ability to filter out unimportant tasks that take less than a minute to complete. If you have more than five todos in a list, the app asks you to buy a license for the extra features it entails. However, the free version should be enough to accomplish most of the common tasks we expect from any task management tool, such as keeping track of the number of unread emails, automatic reminder for tasks that are overdue and so on. However, Ultralist does more than just showing you the way to track your tasks, but also allows you to schedule a meeting to discuss the outstanding items, or even assign a high priority to it so you can accomplish it in no time. So, it's up to you to decide if the additional features outweigh the need for a manual system, but the developers are always open for suggestions, so if you want to try the tool, feel free to drop a comment below.
