The file that you have opened will appear in the top left corner of the 'Layers' window. By default, each file within that folder is available for viewing and editing in Photoshop. When you open a file in Photoshop, you will see all of the other images in the file when it appears in Photoshop. You should also see a layer of white colour that has a number underneath. This is the background of the image that you will work on and the layer with the number will be hidden. You will need to create a new layer with your logo, place it over the white grey box and then use the Layers panel in the Photoshop interface to apply a layer mask to the new layer. The white grid lines that you see when you open a file is referred to as a layer mask. A layer mask is a special feature that lets you hide unneeded parts of your layer that is applied over a background. What are the tools in the tool bar?
